NARRATIVE

On Tuesday, June 24, 2008, at approximately 2:30 p.m., I was dispatched to 2525 El Llano Road in Las Vegas in reference to a domestic disturbance.

Upon my arrival, I was contacted by a male subject who identified himself as Michael Gomez. Michael did not have a shirt on at the time. He explained to me that his wife, Deborah Gomez, had scratched all over his face, on his neck, and on the side of his head. Michael Gomez had a clean shaved bald head. He explained to me that they began to argue because Deborah had become jealous and it was apparent that she was accusing him of having an affair with a next door neighbor. Michael stated that was totally false and that Deborah was just a very insecure person. He told me they had been drinking for most of the day and that Deborah becomes violent when she drinks.

I went inside and spoke to Deborah Gomez. She was visibly upset and I could see that she was crying. I started talking to her and I could barely hear what she was trying to tell me. I asked her what had happened and she attempted to talk, but her voice was very raspy and I could not understand what she was telling me. I looked along her throat and could see red marks on her throat and the sides of her neck. I asked her what had happened. She told me that her husband, Michael Gomez, never hits her; however, he does strangle her. She stated this had happened several times in the past and that he would strangle her until she passes out. She stated he had been arrested once before for domestic violence because he had punched her; however, he does not punch her anymore because he knows that, if he hits her, the police will take him to jail. I asked her if she wanted any medical assistance. She stated she did and that she may have passed out several times. I looked at her eyes and could see some blood vessels in her eyes may have been broken or were extremely red. I photographed all the marks around her neck and throat. She told me that Mike is a very big guy, weighing approximately 230 to 240 pounds and, when he gets on top of her, she is not strong enough to get him off. She said she attempted to scratch him, trying to get him off, and that was how he got the scratches around his neck and face.

At that point, I went outside and spoke to Michael again. It should be noted that Michael weighs approximately 240 pounds. I asked Michael if he had ever been arrested for domestic violence and he told me he had, but the charges were dismissed because Deborah did not want to cooperate and did not testify during the trial. At that time, I advised him I was placing him under arrest for battery on a household member and for false imprisonment. He stated he couldn't understand why I was arresting him because he was the one who had been assaulted.

I placed Michael under arrest for the offenses listed and placed him in my State Police unit. I then summoned an ambulance for Deborah Gomez. I asked her if she had anywhere she could stay and she said she didn't. I also advised her about an Order of Protection and stated it would be a good idea to get one. She stated she wanted to get one because these things had happened so many times in the past, but she had never gotten one before. I called for a domestic violence advocate from the Tri-county Justice Center who arrived on scene and started working with Deborah. Medical personnel also arrived on scene.

I took photographs of Deborah's eyes, throat, and neck. Also, during the time I was talking to both subjects, I had my State Police issued digital recorder on and I captured the conversation with Deborah, which was very hard to hear.
